

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
JHN's ANTI BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons in adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy
has, under Providence, preserved
their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak in favour of a medicine than claims of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove infallible preventive; and further,
their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases
seemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly safe, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the pores—to produce a free perspiration
and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold it taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness in the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and would be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

THE MAMMOTH.

Prairie du Chien, March 1.

Sir.—The present appears to be a age fruitful in curiosities, on the land as well as in the deep. I take the liberty to send you for publication, a copy of a letter to Dr. Mitchell, written by a gentleman of New York, who has been for some time past a journey in the wilds of the upper Mississippi. The strange account he there gives of the re-appearance of the Mammoth, and the causes of so great commotions among the wild animals, will afford to the naturalist matter of deep speculation, and excite in the public generally, equal curiosity with the recent appearances of the great serpent on the shores of the Atlantic.—I am, sir, your obedient servant, &c.

Prairie du Chien, March 1, 1818.

DR. SAMUEL MITCHELL,

Sir.—Believing that the occurrences which happened in this country will not be uninteresting to you, suffer me to describe to you the emigration of the Buffalo and the recent appearance of a large animal supposed to be the Mammoth.

Do not be too much surprised at the mention of a quadruped so famous for its size, and which has long since been considered extinct. Though the present age is only acquainted with the skeleton of the Mammoth, there are grounds for believing the present existence of this once formidable and gigantic animal. Various Indian accounts have lately reached us of its having been seen on the Big Praire, not far from the head of the Redwood River St. Peters. The latest account of it is given by the Sioux (as they are termed) a wandering tribe of Indians. They describe it as being far superior in size to the Buffalo, or any known animal that abounds on the Mississippi or its waters. On seeing this animal the Indians were alarmed and terrified. They conceived it to be the Match Matchi Maniton, or evil spirit.

BESIDES the attention which the appearance of this animal has excited, in the minds of the people here, they have been awakened at the sight of numerous animals, that are collected to and surround this place. What has given rise to this great commotion of the animal kingdom in this quarter of our country will appear difficult to explain. From some cause or other the animals have been much disturbed; and being either impelled by fright, or the want of subsistence, have wandered from their accustomed abodes, and sought a shelter in this neighborhood. The deer, the panther, and the bear, are now seen around us in greater plenty than has ever yet been known. The Buffalo, which has long since been driven off the Indian hunting grounds, and sought security from the savage hunter, by retreating West, have lately crossed the Mississippi, nigh this place, in considerable herds, and are travelling towards the lake frontier.

TO account satisfactorily for this extraordinary emigration of animals, and the recent appearance of the supposed Mammoth, which Indian traders say, came from the unexplored regions of the north west, will be difficult. But I think one probable conjecture is, that earthquakes have been the principal cause.—We have felt several slight shocks here; and have received accounts of dreadful earthquakes to the west.

EXCELLENT!

A Vermont paper gives the names of 58 couple, married in the little country town of Barnard, in the year 1817.—A plain indication this of the absence of pride and luxury, and the prevalence of content and innocent simplicity in that vicinity.—Where young men and women, in the common walks of life, can be content to keep house with plain decency and comfort, and do not consider a side board and imported carpet as indispensable articles of furniture, matrimony will naturally flourish. Extravagance & pride, whenever they prevail, are sure to deter people from marrying, and leave a host of old maids and bachelors in a state of privation and comparative infelicity.

From the Boston Advertiser, May 6.
We are requested by Capt. Graves to give insertion to the following statement:

"Five days before my arrival at Gibraltar on my late voyage in the Cesar, viz. on the 20th of November last, I had the misfortune to wound my right hand severely with the main boom by which my third finger was jammed off, and on my arrival was in danger of losing my hand, if not my life, through want of medical assistance, which the regulations of quarantine, being then extremely rigorous in consequence of a plague being on the coast of Barbary, prevented me from receiving in the hospital, or on shore as usual. From this perilous situation I was relieved by the benevolence of Com. Chauncy, and the officers of his squadron, then lying in the bay, who, on learning my situation, immediately ordered me every assistance which generosity and humanity could dictate, or kindness conceive.

"In making this public acknowledgement, I hope not to offend the delicacy of my benefactors in particularizing the names of those whose situation enabled them to render me peculiar services, viz: Of Dr. Washington, of the ship Franklin, who came on board my vessel as soon as anchored, and dressed my wound, and afterwards rendered me every assistance; of Capt. George Rogers, of the sloop Peacock, who brought his ship into quarantine ground for the purpose of taking me on board, where I remained 19 days under the medical care of Dr. John Cadell, surgeon of the ship, whose unremitting kindness, with the attention of the other gentleman of the wardroom, Lieuts. Cassin, Langton, Helmly and Evans; Mr. Wilson, sailing master, Mr. Beale, purser, and Mr. Lord, lieut. of Marines, who vied with each other in rendering me every possible assistance to promote my health and happiness. I shall ever remember with sincere gratitude; also, to every officer and midshipman of the Peacock and the squadron for their kindness and attention.

"I take the liberty to enclose you a translation I made of the summons of General MORILLO, as well as his Proclamation, addressed to the Commandant and inhabitants of the inextricable island of Margarita; and the answer given to the same by the governor of that island; which, for its energetic, elegant, and patriotic style and sentiments, does honor to the man who penned it, and to the inhabitants, who supported it with a heroism unparalleled in modern times. I hope the same will be published, and am confident it will meet the good wishes of a discerning and admiring public."

TRANSLATION
Of all the Summons of General Morillo, accompanied by a Proclamation addressed to the Commandant and inhabitants of Margarita to surrender himself and their Island to the Sovereignty of Ferdinand the VII.

"To the commandant of the armed forces of Margarita.

"The troops of the king, under my command, have again returned to this island, and I hope that it will shortly be subjected to the dominion of its legitimate sovereign—I know very well your promises, and I am persuaded that the general mass of its inhabitants have not wished to bring upon themselves so many and so disastrous evils—your misfortunes have been occasioned solely by one perverse man; and the blood which has been shed, as well as the restlessness and anxiety which he has drawn upon you, is the most worthy reward which his detestable heart could confer upon you. I am anxious to commence a campaign, whose result cannot be doubted.

"Well known to you are the means which I can make use of, abundantly sufficient to realize my plans; nevertheless, the friend of humanity, and always propense to the general welfare, I have contemplated to send you the summons accompanied with a proclamation, addressed to the people of Margarita, in which, with a frankness becoming a military character, I declare to them my sentiments.

"Fate has put you in a situation to establish the true felicity of your country, by adoring the only measure which reason and duty dictate you. If you will cause the inhabitants to be disarmed; if you will surrender yourself with them to the obedience of our beloved sovereign, Ferdinand the VII, all hostilities shall cease;

all passed events shall be forgotten, and you may calculate upon the protection of the government of His Majesty. Those chiefs or loyal persons who may accompany you in this important service shall equally be attended to, and remunerated in proportion to the merit which they may be entitled. The bearer of this summons will inform you immediately every thing you may wish to learn for your future conduct. You must not calculate me with the disasters which henceforward may ensue, if obstinacy and infidelity is your resolution; and you may rely upon it, that without vainly threatening or ostentatiously boasting of my forces, the chastisement of this Island shall be so exemplary that there shall not remain a single individual who shall escape the punishment of his crimes, nor preserve the memory of the bloody and terrible fate which they and their families shall suffer.

"Head-Quarters, De los Darales, Margarita, 17th July, 1817.
(Signed) PABLO MORILLO."

PROCLAMATION.

Inhabitants of Margarita!—From Ocana I promised you in April of the year last past, that I would return again to these coasts to chastise the seditions, and establish that order they had destroyed. The hypocrite and despicable Arismendi said that I was deceiving you, and that presumption and pride directed my voice from the banks of the Magdalena. Already you behold whether I have fulfilled my promise, and after having left the kingdom in submission and in the enjoyment of its ancient felicity. The beautiful provinces of New Grenada now judging of my conduct, and know your situation.

Inhabitants of Margarita!—I have a knowledge of all the minutiae of your revolution, and the miscreants who have effected it. Those very individuals (the greater proportion of them) abandon you to your fate like cowards as they are, in the moment when I have approached, and run away at the mere idea of danger that menaces them. This Arismendi, born but for your misery, and cowardly as he is vile, will not come to your protection, nor the multitude of wretches who have pompously displayed themselves when nothing near them had to fear, all of them now emigrate and desert you under diverse pretenses; and the pirate Brion, concludes by sacking the Island and flies with his vessels. In this situation I invite you anew with the clemency of your beloved master Don Ferdinand the VII, whose august and majestic soul only delights in the welfare and felicity of his vassals. Embrace the same, and you may calculate upon a pardon if you immediately surrender.

You have learned by experience that I know how to fulfil my promises, and that my word is inviolable. Your destiny cannot be doubtful, when it is certain that, besides the expeditionary division which has just arrived from the peninsula, I have at my disposal the divisions of the army, with whose valor and decision you are well acquainted. If notwithstanding this step which I have taken in behalf of humanity, and as a consequence of the principles which have always guided my conduct, ye persist in your rebellion, as ye have manifested from the moment of my landing, there shall be nothing that will impede my undertakings; and ceasing from that instant every consideration for you, and entering upon my plans for your reduction; I will march upon you with the respectable forces under my command.—Desolation and terror shall attend them; and if the traitors of Barcelona have terminated their miserable existence in this disloyal island, there shall not remain even the ashes nor the memory of the rebels who despised the piety of the sovereign, and leagued together for his extermination.

"Head Quarters, De los Darales, Margarita, 17th July, 1817.
(Signed) PABLO MORILLO,
General in Chief."

ANSWER,

Given by Francisco Esteban Gomez, Governor and Commander in Chief of the Island of New-Sparta, alias Margarita, to the summons of surrender and the Proclamation of Pablo Morillo, dated Barcelona, 17th July.

"To the commandant of the armed forces of Margarita.

"The troops of the king, under my command, have again returned to this island, and I hope that it will shortly be subjected to the dominion of its legitimate sovereign—I know very well your promises, and I am persuaded that the general mass of its inhabitants have not wished to bring upon themselves so many and so disastrous evils—your misfortunes have been occasioned solely by one perverse man; and the blood which has been shed, as well as the restlessness and anxiety which he has drawn upon you, is the most worthy reward which his detestable heart could confer upon you. I am anxious to commence a campaign, whose result cannot be doubted.

"Well known to you are the means which I can make use of, abundantly sufficient to realize my plans; nevertheless, the friend of humanity, and always propense to the general welfare, I have contemplated to send you the summons accompanied with a proclamation, addressed to the people of Margarita, in which, with a frankness becoming a military character, I declare to them my sentiments.

"Fate has put you in a situation to establish the true felicity of your country, by adoring the only measure which reason and duty dictate you. If you will cause the inhabitants to be disarmed; if you will surrender yourself with them to the obedience of our beloved sovereign, Ferdinand the VII, all hostilities shall cease;

you ought to infer that it is not the cause of one individual alone which we defend; and that general Arismendi to whom your excellency attributes the origin of our adversities, far from drawing upon us those supposed evils, put into our hands the precious gift of liberty, and knew how to conduct us to the summit of glory, leaving us on his departure wise lessons for our defense, and faithful models whereby to conquer Spaniards.

"The blood which has been spilt, and that which again will be shed, flows from the absolute necessity which every one has to defend himself against his enemy; and from the implacable odium which the sons of New Sparta profess towards their oppressors; and not from the perverse idea of our error, but from an enthusiasm which unanimously animates us to bury ourselves under the ruins of our country, with all the most tender objects of our affections, rather than leave to posterity the black stain of humiliation and subjection upon the brilliant picture of our victories.

"Certain it is that your excellency is well known to us, and never will the Margaritanians blot from their memories the transient duration of your passed promises. Evils of every description came upon us in the course of prosperity; a general shout was heard to resound throughout the island, and this doleful clamor was what instigated its inhabitants to assert those rights for which they now struggle. Since that period New Sparta, alias Margarita, ratified its oath of honor "de vencer o morir" (to conquer or die) and banished from its memory the words "pardon and forgetfulness of the past," with which all the Spanish chiefs second their intentions and their niggardly plots to sacrifice us. Thus it is useless for you to repeat this scheme or step, which your excellency has had the goodness to adopt in behalf of humanity, at the same moment that you threaten our island with a total desolation. By such expressions of your excellency, and from our final resolution, you will learn what are the sentiments of these people.

"If your excellency should be the conqueror, you will become the master of the fragments, the ashes and lugubrious vestiges, which shall be the remains of your constancy and valor; in these your tyrannical ambition may take delight, and if not in these, in that of domineering over the area of the island of Margarita, alias New Sparta, but never its illustrious defenders."

Port of Wilmington, May 2.

Arrived, brig Mason's Daughter, Mayberry, 17 days from Jaquemot, (St. Domingo.) On the 12th April, the Mexican privateer schr Florid Libra, was laying off and on, getting provisions—the captain of the privateer informed, that Com. Aury was then off Samana, with four sail besides the Mexican Congress; and that he was then in pursuit of the schr Brutus, capt. Jolly, to assist in taking said Island. The Florid Libra was a tender to Com. Aury's fleet. The Brutus was, at that time, at Aruba, with two Spanish prizes. The Mason's Daughter sailed on the 13th April, and saw the Florid Libra standing to the north and east, with all sail set.

Schr Catharine Rogers, Kelham, 70 days from N. York. On Sunday the 19th April, in lat. 33°, 33' N. long. 74° 45' W. at noon discovered a wreck bearing S. by E. distance 4 miles; bore away to ascertain who she was, and on coming up with her, found her to be a brig of 180 tons, called the Edward, br. of what place, where from or bound, could not ascertain. She had a low deck, and short quarter deck; the waist varnished; two white streaks and one black streak on her quarter; the quarter deck varnished; a lead colored streak for the water-ways; a wide moulding round the stern, with a star in it, all painted white; her bottom light varnish or red. She lay on her starboard side, with her head to the N. W.; her forecastle carried away about 4 feet above the deck; and the bowsprit within the cap; part of the rigging and sails were hanging to her—she appeared to be almost a new vessel.—Sent the boat to get something from her, but there being such a swell, it returned with some blocks and a few yards of canvas, which they cut from the yards and rigging.

A young man on board the C. R. who appeared to know the vessel as soon as we came up with her, as he was on board of her in the Havana, says she is the brig Edward, of Warren, and was bound to New York with a cargo of sugar and molasses.

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine.

The fame of these pills has become so great, that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a stereotype label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's celebrated Eye Water,

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources.

Price 25 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Ich Ointment,
